

Common Ground CAPT Scores: Four Years of Dramatic Growth

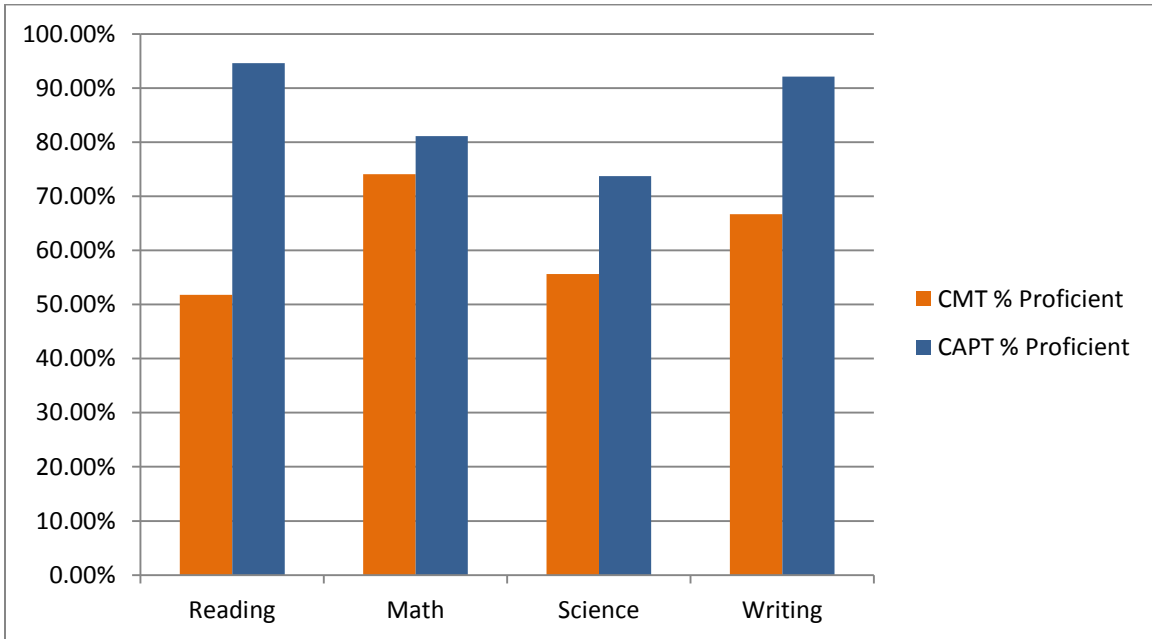

Between 2007 and 2011, the percentage of Common Ground students earning proficient scores on the state-wide CAPT test doubled in every subject.

Common Ground CAPT Scores 2011: Outpacing the State Average in 3 of 4 Subjects

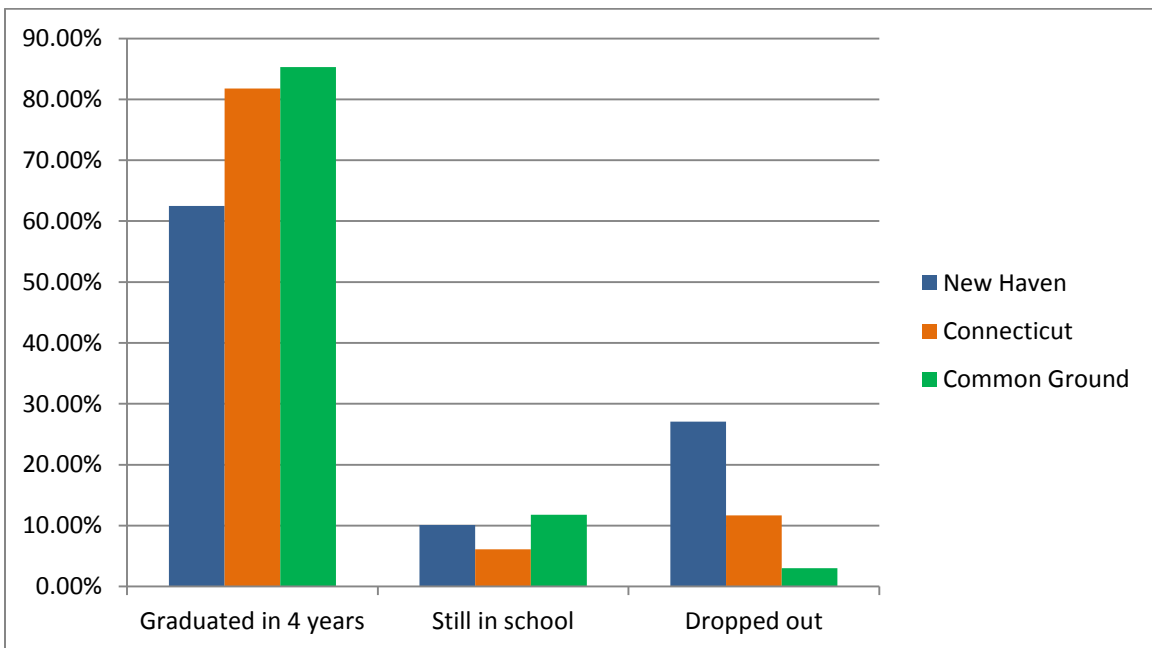

After four years of significant gains – including the largest of any Connecticut high school in 2010 – Common Ground students are now outperforming their peers across the city and state.

Common Ground Proficiency Rates: 8th Grade CMTs v. 10th Grade CAPT

Between 8th Grade and 10th Grade, Common Ground students made gains in every subject. These results are for the 2011 CAPT, the most recent data available.

Common Ground Graduation Rates in 2010: Common Ground, New Haven, and the State

Common Ground students are more likely to graduate on time, and less likely to drop out, than their peers across the state and city.